Young Rembrandts

The Power of Drawing

Thank you for enrolling your child in Young Rembrandts.

Children taught using the Young Rembrandts method produce remarkable drawings. Your child's pictures represent a means, not an end. There is a bounty of additional skills your child will learn in each Young Rembrandts class.

Focus, Self-Discipline and Persistence

Your child spent 45 to 60 minutes focused on one project! The Young Rembrandts method has them sequentially place shapes, lines and a variety of details to create their drawings. The use of these analytical skills, perceptual skills and creativity is whole-brained learning at its best.

Problem Solving, Visualization and Order Sequencing

As we learn to draw with Young Rembrandts, we look at our subject and learn to see its basic shapes. When we draw, we work from larger shapes to smaller details. Ask your child to name the basic shapes in different household objects. As they develop these fundamental observation skills, the sky is the limit – they can draw anything!

Coloring and Attention to Detail

We teach children a professional coloring technique. Your child may have used markers before, but not in this manner, and not with these results. Ask your child to show you the official Young Rembrandts coloring method. These careful coloring skills will benefit many areas of their fine motor development.

Self Esteem and Positive Reinforcement

Your child is nurtured and encouraged in a non-competitive environment. Your child has a safe, comfortable place to talk about art, learn drawing skills and have fun. We honor them for the process, as well as the final product.

Witness the wealth of skills your children will acquire as they experience the Power of Drawing.
